THE BRIEF

Liberty Church Wirral (LCS) is an independent church founded in 1923 and which two years later became one of Assembly of God's first registered churches.

LCS, who pride themselves on being a relevant 21st-century church, asked Smarter Business to remove five unused electricity meters.

OUR ACTIVITY

The church's previous energy supplier had installed seven electricity meters on the premises, which resulted in LCS paying high standing charges on each, despite some being completely unused.

In order to cut costs, the church asked its supplier to remove the meters that were not in use, a request which was refused. At that point, LCS called in our help.

Providing them with a dedicated account manager and excellent customer service, we were not only able to remove the five unused electricity meters at no cost but also to install a new gas meter.

Furthermore, we arranged for smart meters to be installed, so the client could properly track its energy consumption.

“

The trustees are delighted at the service received. You managed to untangle the mess of our electric installations and, against all odds, you found a supplier that suits our needs. The gas installation was a miracle! We could not have achieved this without you.

THE OUTCOME

This job was a great example of the insights our reporting can provide. The new contract we negotiated on behalf of Kernock Park Plants delivered immediate savings and results.

Through our proactive approach to data analysis and reporting, we were able to provide the client with accurate, objective data that helped influence important and beneficial energy management decisions.
